

HIGH HOPES

High Hopes Head Injury Program started in 1975, and is the first non-profit charitable brain-injury rehabilitation program in the country. High Hopes is a one-of-a-kind organization dedicated to helping brain-injured adults recover their lives. High Hopes does not give up on anyone, but rather develops successful solutions for each person. High Hopes has helped hundreds achieve results far above expectations. High Hopes is nationally and locally recognized for its success. High Hopes is celebrating 50 years of service and is looking forward to continued success for the brain-injured community.
